Hey Folks,
Hope you all are doing well!
Checking in to see if you have an official date to launch. We will need to change over one thing when your hosting guy changes everything over - so we'll need to know that day to schedule our work. (It's a database name change so that links go to the right place - that you can't do until the URL is live).

Aaron,
We are aiming for 8/5 or 8/6 for a soft launch. I am out of the office at a work conference for the remainder of the week. Wes and I will both be in the office starting next week and should be able to add the finishing touches before launching later in the week. I expect that payment will follow directly after the launch, but I will confirm.
